RLC Fitness Centers bulk up with new MarketPlace location

BY BRECCA MULLINAX

CLOCKTOWER CHRONICLE STAFF

Need a place to workout for the upcoming summer season? Want to have a quick run on the treadmill or a place for a short exercise video? Thanks to the growing Rend Lake College Fitness Centers — now with a new location and more exercise classes — students can do just that and more.

Conveniently located between the RLC Golf Outlet and Shoe Stop at the RLC MarketPlace in Mount Vernon, the new RLC Fitness Center is ready for gym goers to use. It has all the exercise equipment someone would need to stay in shape, including treadmills, Stairmasters, exercise bikes, weights, and a second attached room where yoga classes and fitness mixes are being held. In instances where a member wants to try another exercise video or routine, a projector has been made available as well as a curtain to seclude the room for a private workout session.

Even with all of these changes in a new facility, Tony Etnier, director of RLC Fitness Centers, said there will be even more.

"We are going to continue to make improvements to the facility next year," he said. "We are looking at exploring putting in another bathroom, adding showers, changing rooms, maybe knocking out another wall and increasing the space we have." He added that, in the near future, a Zumba class will be added to the schedule, as well as a possible spinning class.

However, if Rend Lake's main campus in Ina still works best, the gym will continue to be open there with similar equipment as well as yoga and aerobics classes of its own for anyone who registers.

For $53 a semester, anyone can gain access to the gyms at both the main campus and MarketPlace. And members can hop into any of the exercise classes at no extra charge. Signing up for RLC Fitness Centers is an easy process. Anyone interested can register in Student Services on the main campus in Ina or at the MarketPlace for a grade, or credit/ non-credit. For those going for the grade, completing 13 hours and 20 minutes a semester in RLC Fitness Centers earns an "A." Ten hours passes a student for credit.

The new MarketPlace Fitness Center is open seven days a week; from 6 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Saturday, and from 1-5 p.m. on Sunday. The Fitness Center on Rend Lake's main campus is open from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Additional information is available by calling 437-5321 and dialing ext. 1347 for the main campus Fitness Center or Ext. 1348 for the MarketPlace Fitness Center.

Culinary Arts Club approved to host book exchange

BY MELISA GIBBS

CULINARY ARTS CLUB

The Rend Lake College Culinary Arts Club was recently approved to host a book exchange on a bookshelf in the Student Center, located just outside of the Culinary Arts department office on the lower level.

The RLCCAC has been hard at work locating, donating and organizing cookbooks, magazines and other culinary related materials to share with the rest of the RLC community. The idea behind the bookshelf is to create a rotating library of culinary-inspired books and magazines to encourage those outside the RLCCAC to try something new or encourage interest.

Eating is a fundamental process of everyday life, but so often in a fast pace world, people forget to actually enjoy food. It's so easy to grab a burger and go while jetting off to the next class. But what are people really eating? The RLCCAC would like to encourage more people to take the time to actually cook and enjoy food. It won't just taste better. It will be healthier!

The bookshelf works on an honor system. Participants can take what they want, put it back when done or bring something new from home. Have a bunch of old cooking magazines just soaking up dust in the corner? Bring them in and let others enjoy them. For those with questions, feel free to stop by the culinary office and ask.

Officials say campus art addition still a year away

BY BEKA KASH

CLOCKTOWER CHRONICLE STAFF

Construction will be starting soon to expand the Rend Lake College art program by adding more than 2,000 square-feet to the current space.

The project is made possible by funding through Governor Pat Quinn's Illinois Jobs Now! program. The project will create construction jobs for the area while giving the art department much-needed space.

RLC Physical Plant Director Randall Shively says, "Right now the plans are in 25 percent review and we are in the process of taking all of the details to 100 percent. All drawings for specifics on what needs to be built are being finished up at this time."

He added that the project is currently on budget at $601,700.

Shively mentioned that the art space is currently in a triangle shape, so another triangle shape will be added on the west side and will double the size of the art program. Other improvements will be made to the existing space to make it look similar to the new area. He said advertising of the project will be done in March to get bids from construction companies and one will be chosen by the first of April. After that, construction will start in the middle of May and the new space will be completed by January, 2014.

With everything coming together, art students can expect to have plenty of new space to demonstrate their creativity next year.

RLC Foundation calling for scholarship applications

BY DYMIN HAYES

CLOCKTOWER CHRONICLE STAFF

Many students could use some financial help while attending Rend Lake College. Fortunately, local businesses and organizations have helped RLC provide up to 100 academic scholarships to those who qualify. No matter if one is a returning student, current student, or incoming student — it's relatively easy to apply for a scholarship! First, one must submit a completed application to the RLC Foundation office in the Student Center. Applications are made available online at www.rlc.edu/foundation. Applicants need to have a letter of recommendation. An unofficial transcript can be turned in once the application has been submitted. Each scholarship is different and is awarded based on various criteria: GPA, locality, area of study, community involvement, or financial need. Shawna Manion, CEO of the RLCF, encourages all students to apply. "We hope to get as many applications as possible so that we can find the best possible match between our donors/scholarships and the student recipients," said Manion. "The Foundation is here to give a helping hand to our students through scholarships." Don't let this fantastic opportunity to apply for additional educational funds slip away! The deadline for all applications is Feb. 28.

SIH delivers Polycom equipment to RLC through USDA grant

Kimberly Guetersloh, a grant researcher and coordinator with Southern Illinois Healthcare, delivered new communications equipment to Rend Lake College Allied Health Division Chair Kim Robert and Distance Learning and Media Technology Specialist Derek Wintermann last week. This equipment is an upgrade to the Simulation and Learning Lab at Benton Consolidated High School. RLC was able to get the equipment through a partnership with Connect SI and SIH. Robert said, "The Allied Health Division has always valued its partnership with SIH and looks forward to working on more projects with them to help build the future of healthcare in Southern Illinois." According to Guetersloh, other colleges in the region also benefitted from the grant opportunity through the Rural Utilities Services (RUS) grant program from the U.S. Department of Agriculture. These grant funds allowed for the purchase of webinar equipment and are aimed at addressing the continued unmet healthcare needs of the Illinois Delta Region. # ATHLETICS

WARRIORS

Rend Lake College Head Baseball Coach Tony Etnier signed 13 new players Saturday on the college's main campus in Ina. Recruits were joined by their friends and family as they signed their national letters of intent to play ball at Rend Lake in the fall. Below is information about each new Warrior. For all things athletic at The Lake, visit RLC online at www.rlc.edu/warriors.

Tyler Ellis, a 6-0, 170-pound right-handed pitcher from Mt. Vernon Township High School, is joined by his parents and Rend Lake College Coach Tony Etnier as he signs his national letter of intent to play baseball at RLC in the fall. Ellis, a first-team all-conference selection as a junior, said one reason he decided to play for Rend Lake is that he likes Etnier and his reputation for player development. "It feels like a good college for me to start off and it's close to home," stated Ellis. About Ellis, Etnier said, "Tyler was 8-0 last year for Mt. Vernon, largely because of his late-sinking fastball and sharp slider. His ability to get ground balls is what really attracted us to him. He is a true sinker/slider guy right now and will fit nicely into our staff next year."

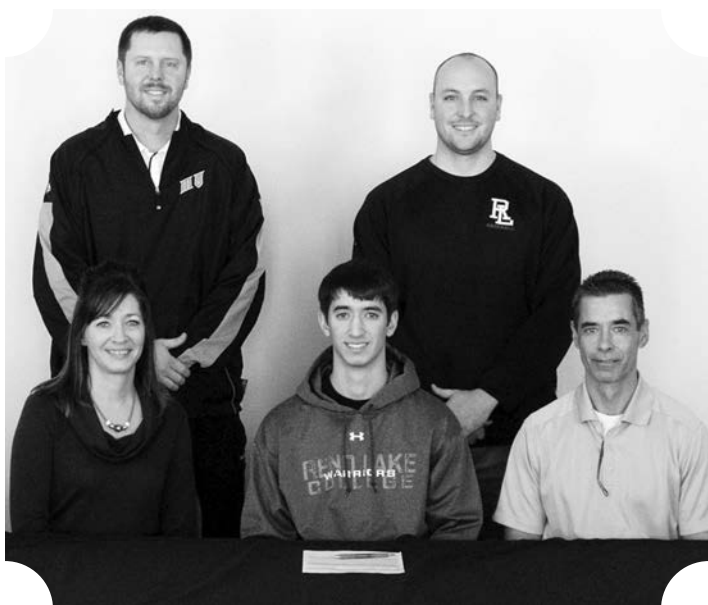

Okawville senior golfer Kaylyn Fuhrhop signed her national letter of intent last week to play golf at Rend Lake College in the fall. Seated, FROM LEFT, are Okawville Athletic Director Jon Kraus, Kaylyn Fuhrhop, and her mother, Susan. Standing: RLC Head Women's Golf Coach Cindy Corn is flanked by Kaylyn's sisters, Madalyn and Lyndsay. Fuhrhop is a Metro-East and First-Team Belleville News selection who finished fourth in LPGA of Southern Illinois and has a nine-hole scoring average of 37.

A total of 13 recruits signed at the event. Additional recruits are: Sammy Stearns (Carterville), Justin Clark (Miamisburg, Ohio), Eli Miller (Shelbyville), Jake Stewart (Murphysboro), Alex Andros (Goreville), Alex Wittenauer (Waterloo), Zack Jansen (Maderia, Ohio), JT Arneemann (Franklin-Simpson, Ky.), Dylan Dunn (Mt. Zion), Chance Hamilton (Hancock County, Ky.), and Derek Flaughter (Mt. Zion).

Ty Henderson, a 6-7, 165-pound right-handed pitcher from Webber Township High School, is joined by his grandfather and Rend Lake College Coach Tony Etnier as he signs his national letter of intent to play baseball at RLC in the fall. Henderson is ranked No. 93 overall in Illinois by Prep Baseball Report and No. 45 overall in Illinois for pitchers. An honor roll student, he was a three-time all-conference selection at WTHS where he was named Midland Trail Conference Player of the Year. He said he likes RLC's nursing program and plans to get bigger and stronger in his training. "I want to be pushed to the limit," he stated. "I want to get everything possible from it." About Henderson, Etnier said, "Ty is a tall righty with a lot of upside. His fastball already works in the upper 80's and we think that his velocity will continue to climb as he matures physically. He commands three pitches for strikes and, over the next couple of years, should turn into a big-time prospect."

Landon Thomas, a 6-0, 165-pound outfielder and left-handed pitcher from Mt. Vernon Township High School, is joined by his parents, Rams coach Tim Holloway, and Rend Lake College Coach Tony Etnier as he signs his national letter of intent to play baseball at RLC in the fall. Thomas is an honor roll student at MVTHS where he was an all-conference selection for his performance in the outfield as a junior. He was also valedictorian of the grade school he attended. "I chose Rend Lake because it is close to home and I really like the way coach Etnier handled the team when I was on my visit," stated Thomas. "I find it to be a place where I have the chance to grow up as a person and find improvement in my game. Not only has coach Etnier led the team to multiple winning seasons in the past few years, but also, in talking to some guys in the program and some of his former players, they all talked about how much they had improved over their two years at Rend Lake. I really like that." About Thomas, Etnier said, "Landon is a guy that we have seen a lot of over the years. He has gotten better every year in high school, and showed us the ability to hit and pitch from the left side. He is another guy that we think will only get better as he matures physically."

Warriors, 14-2, move up a spot in national basketball ranking

Rend Lake College's men's basketball team is riding a six-game win streak and has jumped up another spot on the latest national ranking.

The Warriors moved from eighth to seventh among Juco DII programs in the country, according to the Jan. 23 poll put out by the National Junior College Athletic Association. They were placed just below South Suburban College. The Chicago-based Bulldogs boast a 19-2 record. One of those losses was to Rend Lake, 76-68, on Nov. 10.

There are 11 games left in Rend Lake's regular season. Rend Lake's streak will be tested this week when it hosts a rematch with Lake Land College at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, Jan. 30. The Lakers won by three points (68-65) in their last meeting – one of Rend Lake's two losses in the Great Rivers Athletic Conference. Lake Land (14-5), like RLC, is 6-2 against GRAC opponents.

"They are division one and we are division two, so they are able to get better players," said RLC Head Coach Randy House.

He added that, in his team's defense, the Warriors did not play well at Lake Land in their first matchup this season. RLC cannot repeat that performance and expect to win on Wednesday.

"[Lake Land] is long and very physical," said House. "We have to show up ready to play and play hard."

RLC is in a unique position as a DII program. Its schedule is filled more than halfway with DI opponents in the GRAC. The transition from DI teams in conference play to DII teams in the postseason is a metric that, most would think, gives Rend Lake good odds at advancing beyond the Region XXIV Tournament to the national championship tournament each year. However, 2012 was the first year the Warriors ever won the region and played in the national tournament. On the flip side, being a DII program puts Rend Lake at a recruiting disadvantage with less to offer potential players. After his team's fourth conference win – 78-66 over Olney Central on Jan. 16 – House quipped, "You know. We aren't supposed to win a single game in our league."

In its historic trip to nationals last season, the Warriors finished 15-14 overall and 4-12 in the GRAC during the regular season. At this time last season, the team was 10-8. Compare that to it's 14-2 record right now and it begs the question, "What's the difference?"

Rend Lake guard Dawson Verhines (Woodlawn) joins the crowd in watching Cortez Macklin's three sail toward the rim during the Warriors' win over John A. Logan College. Macklin (Louisville, Ky.) is leading the team in scoring and three-pointers as RLC gets set to defend its 14-2 record Wednesday night against Lake Land College in Ina.

House says it's deep. "We are deeper this year. We have more players," he said.

The Warriors have two players averaging double-digit points per game in power forward Noel Allen (Guttenburg, N.J.) with 11.6 and freshman guard Cortez Macklin (Louisville, Ky.) with a team-high 14.7. Macklin leads the team in three-point shooting with just under four a game. His season-high so far is 28 points against Southern Institute on Nov. 2. He put up 27 against conference foe Wabash Valley.

Brothers Dawson and Bronson Verhines (Woodlawn) are both pitching in around eight points a game, as are Jeril Taylor and Montez Buford, both of Louisville, Ky. Bronson Verhines leads the team in rebounds with nearly eight per outing.

Rend Lake is leading its opponents in every stat category, including a 37-25 margin in rebounds per game and 76-47 in points per game.

"We are a little older [this year]," House added. "We have some sophomores this year where last year we didn't have any. We had a couple of older freshmen last year in Noel [Allen] and TeNale [Roland], and TeNale moved on."

Allen played a key role last season and still is this year. But with more scoring weapons around him, he hasn't had to carry as big a load in the current campaign.

"Almost the whole team can score," Allen said. "I mean, anybody, at any given time, could get 25 on our team. This year I can take my time a little more. I don't have to struggle or force shots up."

A side note: Roland is getting playing time at Utah State. House said although he thinks his former point guard would like to be playing better, he is definitely contributing toward the Aggies' successful season, which was at 14-1 on a 13-game win streak before losing its last four games to WAC opponents.

"TeNale is definitely enjoying himself," said House.

The Warriors are set to tip off at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday with Lake Land. The Lady Warriors will host the Lady Lakers at 5:30 p.m., before the men's game.

For all things athletic at The Lake, visit RLC online at www.rlc.edu/warriors.

A tradition of southern Illinois junior high championship basketball tipped off Friday, Jan. 18, with the Southern Illinois Junior High School Athletic Association's 2012 Class S, M and L Girls State Basketball Tournament at Rend Lake College. The SIJHSAA Class S, M and L Boys State Basketball Tournament will follow on Feb. 1 - 14.

Held on the floor of James "Hummer" Waugh Gymnasium at RLC for more than 30 years now, the girls and boys state basketball championships will showcase 56 local teams, all vying for a spot among the SIJHSAA's 92-year history of the best junior high basketball teams in the region.

The tournament dates back to 1928 when it was played as sub-states at various locations in southern Illinois, particularly high schools. The tournament came to RLC when a significant snow storm hit the region in 1978, causing officials to scratch game after game in regional tournaments throughout the area. RLC provided a central site and the event has stayed there ever since. Moreover, it continues to grow larger each year, with more teams competing for the championship in classes S, M and L.

Greg Hale of Pinckneyville took over as SIJHSAA Executive Director last June, replacing 15-year head Jim Burnes. Hale talked about some goals he had for his role with the association. They included an improved website with sponsorship opportunities. He checked that off the list last year. The site at www.sijhsaa.com is completely revamped with better functionality, a slick look and feel, and corporate sponsors – including Baden which is providing all the balls for SIJHSAA tournaments. Results from the upcoming rounds at RLC can be found on this site, along with a wealth of information about SIJHSAA sports and opportunities for users to interact, predict tournament winners and post questions in forums.
