Reflection Shows That Many Have Worked Hard for Much

Another year is nearly gone. It is time for all of us to take an inventory of our achievements or gains and determine if there may be areas where we might have done differently if we would have had the experience that is now immediately behind us. This is one of the ways we learn, i.e., by analyzing past experience to determine if we have acted wisely in light of all the known factors. It is always easier to look back over the past to judge matters than it is to make decisions for the future. Hence, the old saying that hindsight is always much better than foresight.

Some people learn this trait of making a careful analysis of all facts before acting or making decisions early in life. Some acquire this ability to a greater degree than others and some seem never to acquire this trait. Again, I believe there is a close relationship between education and the development of this important trait. Certainly education is for more than the representation of a let of forest tainly education is far more than the memorization of a lot of facts and the accumulation of information. It is what one does with that information that counts most.

With the above thoughts in mind, let us examine some of the major events and developments that have occurred in recent years and months in regard to Rend Lake College. In 1956 the College (Mt. Vernon Community College) was started. Looking back over the years, this was a good move and those responsible deserve much credit. In 1966 the College District was enlarged to serve a larger geographic area and more people. Again, this unquestionably was a good move and the people responsible for this deserve much credit. Since 1967 the Board of Rend Lake College has acquired a fine new 300 acre site at practically the geographic center and population center of the College district. Ground-breaking was done March 27th as we all know. Again, many people deserve much credit for all the related developments that led to the ground-breaking. On the same day as the ground-breaking, coincidential as it was, we were able to anounce that our College was now fully accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, and, again, many people deserve credit for this achievement.

These kinds of things do not just happen. They occur when people work together analyzing all the factors carefully and then act wisely. We have all been blessed abundantly. Let us all keep these thoughts in mind as we move forward—together!

On April 15, the Board of Education announced that James R. McGhee would be filling the new position of Dean of Adult Education and Community Services. Mr. McGhee will begin as Dean on July 1, after which he will no longer be teaching art and engineering courses here.

This position was made necessary by a state law which requires that junior colleges provide a two-year degree program. two-year vocational-technical program, and make adult education courses and other community services available to people in the college district. Although the definite limits and extents of this job have not yet been established, Mr. McGhee will be in charge of adult education classes, possibly s u m m e r school, extension courses in other towns in the Rend Lake College district, and any other community services connected with RLC.

The title of Dean will not be the first of such honors for Mr. McGhee to receive. Having served in the Army during W.W. II, the Korean conflict, and as commander of the 434th Artil-lery Group which controls all reserve artillery in Missouri and Illinois, he holds the rank of full

"Time of the Season' Set for 9, Saturday, April 26

The season is Spring, the event is the Spring Formal, and the time is 9 p.m. on April 26, when the "Time of the Season" begins. For a quarter of the clock's turn the dance will be formal and the scene will be the Elks Country Club.

But with the stroke of mid-ight, the magic of the "Time of the Season" changes. The dress will become casual and the place will be the Eagle Lodge. From 1:30 until 4:30 on that morning of April 27, the "Time of the Season" will continue.

The special time is set for 11 p.m. when the Queen of the Season will be crowned at the Country Club. The queen will be elected by the student body on the day before the dance, but her name will not be revealed until that night at the cornation.

The dance chairman is Miss Vicki LaLumondier, who has the position of Activities Chairman on the Student Senate. Students who desire to work on the refreshment committee may still sign up in Mrs. Betty Ann

This year the place of the dances was changed to provide a new background for the dances and to eliminate the timely and costly effort of trying to camouflage a gym ceiling. The decorations will center mainly on centerpieces, the perhaps the and places.

This year invitations were given to all the students of Rend Lake College so that each one would feel welcome at the dance and so that everyone would know the exact times and places. The Student Senate would like to extend an invitation to every student of the school, especially those who live outside Mt. Vernon, and to the faculty and administration, to attend the "Time of the Season."

Powers for S. Senate

The Student Senate is being given more power in governing the student activities. For the first time, the Senate has been given the power to determine how the Student Activity Fee will be divided among the various organizations of the school. The four students on this committee are Miss Connie Childress, Miss Vicki LaLumondier, Nick Evanchik, and Miss Sheila

These students are interested in hearing the student's opinion on the value of the various activities. In addition to consulting with students, the committee is talking with RLC Business Manager Paul Fitch to determine the dollars and cents aspects of budgeting.

Another area where the Student Senate is exerting greater control is in determining the graduation program. This committee will also have the responsibility of picking the graduation speaker. The members of this committee are Miss Nancy Caralso desire to hear student recommendations.

Essay Contest

Students have the opportunity to work for the Republican Party in Illinois for three months this summer and receive $750. The students should have completed one year of college, be residents of Illinois, and summit an essay on "Forward Together." The three top winners of this contest will spend the summer working for the GOP in Springfield. For details see Political Science instructor Gene Cormier or the Bulletin board in room 203B.

Largely due to the climbing enrollment at Rend Lake College the Student Senate recently voted in these constitutional revisions

- 1. The SS of 1969-70 shall consist of eleven members instead of the present number of seven.
- 2. Two male and two female upcoming sophomores shall be elected during the first week of May of this school year to be sophomore representatives for next school year.
- 3. Two male and two female freshmen representatives and three representatives at large shall be elected no later than the first week of October of next school year.
- 4. The election of all SS members shall be by general ballot of the entire student body.

PETITIONS AVAILABLE

Petitions for sophomore representatives for next year's Senate are now available in Mrs. Ward's office. Any interested student may obtain a petition, must have it signed by twenty-five students, and must return it to Mrs. Ward's office before the convocation on May 7, wherein office seekers will deliver short campaign speeches. The election itself will take place in the lobby of Building B on Thursday, May 8.

What are the qualifications of sophomore representative to the Student Senate?

One must have passed at least 28 semester hours with a "C" average and must maintain a "C" average during each semester of the school year. If a student drops below this 2.0 average, or resigns from the SS, a school-wide election will be held to replace him at the beginning of the following semester. In addition, a SS member must carry at least 12 semester hours, or qualify as a full-time student.

WORKING FORCE

Those sophomore representatives soon to be chosen will serve as the SS working force prior to the election of freshmen representatives and representatives-at-large next school year.

What odd jobs await the Senate member?

As a Senate member, one must be willing to perform a wide array of duties—create attractive bulletin board posters and write up publicity releases; balance and set up a budget; type up and distribute minutes of meetings, thank-you cards, requests; meet with the administration and faculty to communicate student ideas; act as master of ceremonies at RLC convocations; entertain visitors to the college; circulate among the student body to be acquainted with their complaints and requests; use creativity in inducing people to school functions; conduct elections, such as for Spring Formal queen; actively participate in state IACJC conventions and district meetings; set guidelines for approved policies and procedures; and help in planning commencement and convocations.

EXPANDING ROLE

More and more the SS is expanding from an organization primarily concerned with social duties to a determined voice in business matters governing the students.

At any rate, to be sure, the active senator will find himself hard at work representing his peers. Interested in running?

Brenda Culli

Have you received your invitation to the Spring Formal yet? I don't mean from your date—I mean have you received an official invitation from the Student Senate?

This is the first time in the history of the college that printed invitations have been sent to the student body. And I, as an interested student, am pleased with the way the Student Senate has been handling the arrangements for the Spring Formal so far.

The invitations add a touch of the elegant to the Spring Formal which had been lacking up to this time. They seem to contribute more sophistication to the occasion.

Even the times of the dances have been altered. The new starting time, 9 p.m. seems more appropriate for college students, especially the ones who have to work rather late on Saturday nights. The ending time, 4:30 a.m., adds more realism to the idea of an all-night party.

Perhaps it is only in my mind, but I have a feeling that this year's Spring Formal at Rend Lake College is going to be something different . . . a real swinging time for all who attend. SEE YOU THERE!

Card Playing Now Permitted in L

Card playing is now permitted in the L Lounge.

Card playing in the lounges was banned when the privilege had previously been abused. Students were seen gambling.

A group of students circulated a petition requesting that the privilege be restored with the understanding that gambling was not to be involved.

Miss Brenda Landford and Miss Pat Harp took the petitions before the Student Senate. Miss Sheila Dodson, as President and student spokesman on the Faculty Senate, successfully took the issue through the FS and the President's Council.

The card playing is to be in the L Lounge and not the B Lounge due to the conjection in Lounge due to the congection in B. The SS set up a card table and cards are provided for the students in L.

Pressingly Speaking

PT Comments On RI

The last issue of THE PRESSING TIMES announced the groundbreaking for the new campus on Thursday, March 27. Even the weather seemed to acknowledge the occasion with a warming sun and a dry day.

The surprise of the day was the announcement by President Snyder that the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools had accredited Rend Lake College. The faculty representative at the ceremony, Glenn L. Dare, summed up the faculty's reactions in one word, "gratification."

Mr. Dare has been a member of the faculty since the college first opened its doors in September 1956. For six years he served as President of the Advisory Council, now known as the Faculty Senate.

Spring brings the rain and the rain brings the mud. But kindness brought the maintenance staff to the aid of the students. Maintenance laid asphalt walks from the sidewalks to the curbs for students crossing from G to L Buildings in mid block. Spring still brings the rain and the mud, but no more does the rain make broad jumping a necessity.

Victory comes in many ways, some of them small and some of them mighty. The sophisticated world of college disdains talks of the small still voice, yet there is one.

Half of the members of a class were studying a copy of last year's test, which, of course, would be the same as this year's. One student had already seen a small part of the test when the small still voice spoke. Whether that student had any right to look at that previous test is not the point. The point is that that particular student felt that it was wrong for him to look.

After a self-debate, the student put aside the copy and studied for the test from his book. He felt better within himself. When the test results were announced that student had an even greater sense of victory, he had made a higher grade than the students who had studied all of the copy, which, of course, was the same as last year's.

Not a frequent ending, but in this case, a true one.

Unexpected kindnesses are a boon to anyone's morale. People who frequently must use the faculty mailboxes as a source of communication realize that not every teacher will be able to read all announcements in class or deliver all messages to students. It is a fact of life.

Yet occasionally there is a bright spot. A teacher will take the effort to return a message as undeliverable if the intended receiver is absent. Sometimes the teacher even goes considerably out of his way to make sure that the message reaches the proper sources in time or other arrangements to be made.

Such extra efforts are enough to restore a student's faith.

Life is a repeating cycle. Two years ago the sophomores came here. They were apprehensive and afraid. They had an adjustment to make to college, to a new pattern of life.

Now they are again going through the same apprehension. Next year will be a different pattern of life. Whether the future lies in the armed forces, in marriage and career, or in more college, next year will again be filled with adjustments.

In times of adjustments students are apt to become easily distressed and worried. A little tender loving care (and fewer term papers?) might help. An acceptance from the future firm or college of next year is a definite aid to a student's morale.

What is love?

Love is patient, Love is kind. Love is never boastful.

Love keeps no score of wrongs. There is nothing love cannot face: there is no limit to its endur-

There is no limit to it's faith and hope. Love is without width, breadth, or depth. There is nothing love cannot overcome or encompass.

Love has no definition of physical measurement; It is infinite, lasting eons. There is no description of love, only symptoms. Love is eternal, from the heart:

It is kind and envies no one. It is never proud or conceited. Love is never rude nor selfish.

It is not quick to take offense, Love does not gloat over other men's sins.

There is nothing love cannot accomplish. Love delights and grows in the truth: It is brighter than the strongest sun; It is darker, at times, than the blackest night.

Love causes unbearable torture and mental suffering, Yet love can erase and heal all wounds. Love can remove and smooth all scars in a moment.

Love is all powerful: There are no locked doors to love, Love can always gain an entrance.

Love can overcome mighty armies of assembled might: They will all bow down before it. No one can hope to escape it, There is no place to hide from it.

IT'S SPRING! And that can only mean baseball time. These two Warriors must face the spring reality called rain though. The rains came and the game went — to another town.

Prospects Good for Next Season

Coach Jim Waugh of the Rend Lake Warriors predicts that the future of Rend Lake College in sports is looking much better. Last season the Warriors compiled a 7-14 won-loss slate which was a great improvement over Sledge, a 6-6 forward, was a first team member for the Rams throughout the past season and compiled a 13.1 points per game average. Sanders, a 6-2 guard, was a little slow getting started last season due to a football injury, but added much balance and strength to the Rams' state team.

Coach Waugh intends to play

Sledge at a forward position because of his rebounding ability. Sanders will probably be used as both a guard and a forward, depending upon the Warriors' greater need.

"Last season the Warriors were weak in rebounding and ball handling, and could've been better on defense," stated Waugh recently, "and I know these two guys will add to the team's strength."

LETTERMEN BACK

Coach Waugh stated that the team will most likely be made up of district school players and several of last season's players.

Larry Tutt, who was RLC's most valuable player last season. has been lost for next season to the Navy, much to Coach Waugh's disappointment. However, Randy Siuda, a 6-5 center; Bob Donoho, Bob Windhorst, and Mike Badgett, all guards; and Phil Bowling, a 6-4 forward. should be much improved and intend upon many more wins for next season.

PROSPECTS

Coach Waugh is also hopeful of landing several other area prospects. At the top of his list is Joe Milton, a 6-4 center, from Benton. Steve Weber, a 6-5 center from Wayne City, is also undecided about attending Rend

There are also the possibilities for RLC of obtaining David Stelmazeaski, a 6-5 center from Waltonville; Jim Simmons. a 6-4 forward from Enfield; and Bob Doerr from Sesser. Doerr is currently being sought to play professional baseball, but if he should decide to attend RLC, he would be valuable to the sports department.

rop 6, Win 1

Coach Jim Waugh's baseball Warriors have their first eight games under their belts and are hoping for smoother sailing as they stand with a 1-6-1 slate.

The Warriors, plagued by a "disaster inning" in which the opposition has been able to do most of its damage in several of the previous games, try to get their victory string going April 24 with a doubleheader at Kaskaskia.

Two days later the RLC'ers battle the Eastern Illinois Frosh in a home doubleheader. On April 28, the Warriors will be out to test Wabash Valley. The game will be played at Kaskas-kia.

The Section IV Tourney will be played on April 29-30 this year, with the winner advancing to the Region IV Tourney at Lincoln, Ill., on May 9.

The ability to capitalize on their hitting has apparently been a problem to Coach Waugh's club this year. While they have scored only 15 times on 42 hits, the opposition has 58 tallied times on 66 hits. times on 66 hits.

On April 16, the Warriors traveled to Southeastern College

Southeastern's Vargo and Hays teamed up to fire a twohitter at the visiting Warriors and notch the second shutout against Rend Lake this season, 4-0. The Harrisburg hosts pounded out eight hits.

In the second half of the double treat, the Warriors came back from a 4-0 deficit, with the aid of a Steve Chapman homer, and went on to battle to a 4-4 12th-inning bout finally halted by darkness.

Following are the results of the first six Rend Lake games.

APRIL 12, BELLEVILLE

In the opener, the Warriors outslugged the host Belleville club 8-2, but wound up with a 10-0 defeat. W. Weatherford, Weatherly, and Shovan fired the two-hitter for the locals, but Colts and Bateman racked up the win for Belleville.

In the second game, Belleville had little trouble in dealing the Warriors their second loss of the afternoon, 6-1. Mondino ripped

Spring Comes

Isn't it strange how one week of warm weather can change people when they are looking forward to summer. They sigh to themselves thinking, "Ah, it's shirt-sleeve weather again," and bring out their cottons.

Somehow it just isn't conceivable that snow and cold weather will follow this first taste of Spring. And once those clothes are pulled out and ready to wear, one still belives it's Spring-time. Although there is snow on the ground, it just couldn't be THAT cold. Just the week before it was 70°, wasn't it? Ole Mother Nature in fooling people. Just when they get the first sign of Spring she says 'Ah-ha, not yet, you fools," and back into their houses they go with their worst cold of the year. This surprise snow also seems to occur right after the trees start budding and the flowers start coming up.

But year after year, just when people start believing that Spring will never get here, it comes, and in complete style. But by the time people start believing it's here, it's already gone and summer has sneaked of the Earth; but when they think about it, its really not that

Editor's Note: Spring comes, it really does. There is one sure sign that Miss DeWitt forgot to mention—the rain. April 18 was Southern Illinois University Guest Day for junior college transfer students. Some 70 Rend Lake College students went to SIU for the day, while some five headed in the other direction, toward the University of Illinois.

What does that have to do with Spring? Well, it rained, and rained, and rained, and rained on one group of students. Meanwhile, back at RLC the weather eased up, which shows another of Ole Mother Nature's fickle ways: Rain follows a duck and lets up on days when Spring brings snows.
