Next RLC art show to showcase faculty and staff

BY SHELBY PATTERSON
RLC CLOCKTOWER CHRONICLE STAFFWRITER

Students wandering through the theatre lobby lately will notice the Visiting Artist series on display. Coming later this fall, the art will change with the season, as the Rend Lake College Faculty and Staff Art Show will be put up for display.

This art show is a very exciting opportunity for the RLC faculty and staff to showcase their talents, not only to their students, but to the RLC community as well. The college prides itself on having wonderful and talented instructors — masters of their crafts — and this art show will show not only students, but also the community members, the amount of talent on campus. What better way for students to learn than to see their instructors passionate about their crafts?

Melissa McClement-Engler, RLC art instructor and the exhibit's director, said she thought it would be a great time to switch things up and coincide the Faculty/Staff show with the opening of the new art addition.

"I think it is important for not just our students and community to see some of our hidden talents, but for the RLC family to share them. We have some very talented people on campus that many don't know about or some of the visual arts they make. People expect it in the art department, from Therese Meleena and myself. We have wonderful photography from faculty like Larry Williams, to great jewelry from Sarah Draper, and not to mention RLC student workers' paintings, like Jane Colvin's," said McClement-Engler.

She added that this type of show is only done about once every 10 years, so it is a special treat to be offered this year, just in time to celebrate the opening of the new art wing.

When asked about the new art addition, McClement-Engler was giddy with excitement.

"Oh my goodness! We are in love with the new space! It makes me want to create and the students love it also! It is an exciting time."

Melissa McClement-Engler teaches a class in one of the recently renovated spaces in the art program. The next art show at the college will feature works by faculty and staff at RLC. (ReAnne Palmer / RLC Public Information)

The show will start on Tuesday, Oct. 14 in the theatre lobby. There will be a reception held the following afternoon from 2-3 p.m., Wednesday, Oct. 15.

McClement-Engler said that she is hoping for a good turnout for the show.

"It will be exciting to see the art from our peers and also the support from everyone here on campus for continuing their support of the arts!"

For more information, or to get involved with the show, please contact McClement-Engler at (618) 437-5321, ext. 1718, or by e-mail at mcllement@rlc.edu.

Classes for kids offered in McLeansboro, Pinckneyville

BY REANNE PALMER
RLC PUBLIC INFORMATION

Whether you're looking for a night out with your child or to get your young one interested in a new hobby, Rend Lake College has the classes for you. This fall, there will be four classes geared toward children, ages 13 and younger, in Pinckneyville and McLeansboro.

Create Your Own Hair Bow and TuTu is a great mommy-and-me project where participants can choose three colors to create a hair piece with matching tutu. Participants should register by Sept. 23 at $10 per person, plus $22 for instructor Erin Gale on the day of the class. Attendees will meet from 6 – 8 p.m., Tuesday, Oct. 7, at the Murphy-Wall Campus, Room 113, in Pinckneyville.

Next up is Kids in the Kitchen, scheduled for 6 – 8 p.m., Thursday, Oct. 9, at the Hamilton County Senior High School, Room B157, in McLeansboro. If you're up for an evening of food and fun, this is the class for you. Kids ages 6 – 10 will create an art project, decorating items, and a cooking task all with a single fruit or vegetable. Participants 8 years old or younger must be accompanied by an adult. The class costs $10, plus a $5 fee for Instructor Becky Belcher on the day of class.

Young attendees will

Roundup for Scholarships raising funds for Criminal Justice Program

Event planned for Oct. 27 in Whittington

BY REANNE PALMER
RLC PUBLIC INFORMATION

After overwhelming success for the past two years, the Rend Lake College Criminal Justice program's Roundup for Scholarships fundraiser is coming back to help students complete their degree. The event is set for 6 p.m. Oct. 27 at the Rend Lake Resort and Conference Center in Whittington.

Students, family, friends, and patrons can partake of hors d'oeuvres and a cash bar while listening to a number of guest speakers at the fundraiser, including Chief Judge Michael McHaney of the Illinois Fourth Judicial Court and some student scholarship recipients.

Ron Meek, RLC Criminal Justice Instructor, said he's looking forward to another successful year at the fundraiser, which helps give students an extra boost toward getting their degree.

Area high school students invited to RLC Career Days

BY REANNE PALMER

RLC PUBLIC INFORMATION

Local high school students will unite on Sept. 30 and Oct. 2 at Rend Lake College for the annual Career Days event. Every year, Career Days gives local students a glimpse into college life and encourages them to think about their post-secondary education.

All junior and senior students from in-district high schools will arrive on campus at 9 a.m. for a "Welcome and Introduction" assembly from RLC officials. The short presentation will help the students divide up into one of three groups to go on tours and gather information about their career fields of interest. The three groups are broken down as follows: agricultural education, technology, and engineering education in the first group; health sciences and technology in the second group; and family and consumer sciences, business, marketing, and computer education in the last group.

"Career Days provides a great opportunity for high school students to visit RLC's programs and technical labs," said Lori Ragland, Dean of Community and Corporate Education. "Students always enjoy spending the day on campus with their friends and participating in the different hands-on activities. They will explore several career clusters to assist with selecting their program of study."

Students will meet instructors and tour the programs offered by a variety of areas. Instructors and information will also be available for the RLC programs hosted at the MarketPlace in Mt. Vernon, such as cosmetology and nail technology. Programs that are a part of the Southern Illinois Collegiate Common Market in Herrin, such as veterinary tech, surgical tech, and occupational therapy assistant, will also have representatives present.

After program tours, the students, counselors, and instructors will be served lunch, courtesy of RLC. For more information, contact Kristina Shelton at (618) 437-5321, Ext. 1267, or sheltonk@rlc.edu.

CAREER DAYS — Rend Lake College President Terry Wilkerson welcomed more than 400 area high school students to the Ina campus on Wednesday in Waugh Gymnasium. The students were introduced to a wide range of career and technical programs the college offers as they get closer to choosing a career path.

Highlights from RLC Board's Sept. 16 meeting

BY CHAD COPPLE

RLC PUBLIC INFORMATION

FY 2015 budget adopted, tax levy determined

The board adopted the final Fiscal Year 2015 budget, which was provided in tentative form at the August board meeting. A public hearing on the budget was held at 6 p.m., prior to the regular board meeting. There were no comments from the public. In a related action, the board accepted the 2014 tax levy (payable 2015). The levy represents a slight increase — 1.39 percent — over last year. The Corporate and Special Purpose levy went from $3,003,038 last year to $3,083,318 this year, a increase of 2.67 percent. The Debt Service levy dropped from $1,820,902 last year to $1,807,794 this year, a decrease of 0.72 percent. The total of the two levies rose slightly, from $4,823,940 last year to $4,891,112, an increase of 1.39 percent. Because the total of the proposed Corporate and Special Purpose and Debt Service levies is not greater than 105 percent of last year's levy, no Truth in Taxation hearing is required.

Bevis Construction to replace campus sidewalks — The low bid of $24,300 from Bevis Construction Inc. of Mt. Vernon was accepted for replacement of concrete sidewalks throughout campus.

Two PHS projects submitted to ICCB — The board granted permission to submit Protection, Health and Safety project applications to the Illinois Community College Board for HVAC replacement in the North Oasis and roof replacement of the Theatre and art building.

New courses approved, sent to ICCB

The board approved five new courses and authorized their submission to the Illinois Community College Board for action. Among the new courses are Basic Handgun Training, Advanced Handgun Training and Low-Light Handgun Training. Also approved were Principles of Taxidermy and Selected Topics in Automotive Technology.

O'Daniel to take reins of Recreational Center

The board appointed Tyler O'Daniel as Director of the Recreational Center effective Sept. 16. He holds a Bachelor of Science Degree in Exercise Science from the University of Indianapolis as well as Associate in Science and Associate in Arts degrees from Rend Lake College. He most recently was the event coordinator for Dugout Media / Baseball Youth in Morehead, Ky. Last month, the facility was renamed with the intent to repurpose it to maximize the athletic offerings provided by the college, including individualized lessons, athletic camps, intramural sports and the Wayne Arnold Fitness Center. O'Daniel possesses the necessary knowledge in athletic training, exercise science and marketing along with the strong background in event and camp coordination desired for this position. He has coordinated athletic scouting combines, individualized training programs for youth athletes, and baseball camps throughout the Midwest.

Anselment appointed to CCR&R staff — Appointed Jacquelyn

Anselment as Provider Recruitment / Quality Specialist for Project CHILd, the Child Care Resource and Referral program housed at the RLC MarketPlace. She holds a Bachelor of Science Degree in Early Childhood Education from Southern Illinois University Carbondale as well as Associate in Science and Associate in Arts degrees from Rend Lake College. She most recently served as Assistant Director at Bumblebee Child Care Center in Mt. Vernon.

Children's Center's Rancuret moving on, Gatimu joins staff

The board accepted with regret the resignation of Emily Rancuret, Lead Child Care Provider at the RLC Foundation Children's Center, effective Aug. 13. "I have formed lasting friendships at Rend Lake College and feel honored to be a part of this family," Rancuret wrote in her resignation letter. In a related action, the board ratified the appointment of Kaitlyn Gatimu as a Lead Child Care Provider effective Sept. 15 to fill the vacancy left by Rancuret. Gatimu holds a Bachelor of Science Degree in Early Childhood Education from Southern Illinois University Edwardsville and most recently worked at Logan Street Day Care and Preschool in Mt. Vernon. She previously worked at the Children's Center as a part-time Assistant Child Care Provider.

CNA's Hudgens retiring — The retirement resignation of Aurelia Hudgens, Certified Nurse Assistant Associate Professor, was accepted with regret effective Feb. 28. "I have enjoyed my tenure at Rend Lake College immensely and have had great satisfaction in taking on the challenges given to me and teaching the hundreds of CNA students in my classes," Hudgens wrote in her retirement letter.

In other business, the board ...

Adopted a resolution appointing Terry Wilkerson, RLC President, and Angie Kistner, Vice President of Finance and Administration, as representatives of the RLC Board Secretary for the purpose of accepting candidate nominating petitions; Approved revisions to board policy and procedure concerning Internet, laptops / laptop data encryption, and information security policy framework and guidelines (all second readings); Approved revisions to salaries for three employees; Approved the Jeanne Clery Act Compliance Policy Manual effective Sept. 16.

Mark your calendars for these events coming up ...

Visiting Artist Series: Hillary Remm, works on display in Theatre Lobby through Oct. 10; Rend Lake College Open House, 6-8 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 9, RLC Campus; RLC Foundation Scholarship Dinner, 6 p.m. Monday, Oct. 13, Rend Lake Resort; Poetry Reader: Matt Rotman, noon Wednesday, Oct. 15, Pat Kern Private Dining Room; Warrior Fest, Saturday, Oct. 18, RLC campus; Halloween Concert and Party, Thursday, Oct. 30, Theatre and Student Center; 6 p.m. concert, 7 p.m. party.

also get a taste of the 1970s with Macramé Plant Holder, set for Oct. 16. This class will teach participants the techniques to making a macramé holder and tips on taking the skill home for more projects. Students must be at least 12 years old. The cost of the class is $10, plus a $5 fee for Instructor Paula Hatfield on the night of the class. The workshop will be held from 6 – 8 p.m. at Hamilton County Senior High School, Room B157, in McLeansboro.

The last class, Mad Science, will meet from 6 – 8 p.m., Tuesday, Nov. 18, at Hamilton County Senior High School, Room A183, in McLeansboro. Instructor Jason Hall will go through a number of hands-on science activities for students in grades 4 – 6. The cost of the class is $10, plus a $5 fee for Hall on the night of the class.

been a huge success every year, thanks to the gracious donors in our district and the attendance during the evening," said Meek. "These scholarships are imperative for the students in the Criminal Justice program, giving them extra money to purchase books, supplies, and even gas to get to class and complete their degree."

Meek started the scholarship fundraiser three years ago, and has raised approximately $3,000 every year with help from individual donors, local law enforcement agencies, college faculty and staff, and many more. Specifically, donations were made last year by the Mt. Vernon Police Department, the Jefferson County Fraternal Order of Police Lodge 241, and the Jefferson County State's Attorney's Crime Victim Impact Fund.

"I want to personally thank everyone who has participated in the past, and encourage others to join this year," said Meek. "We added to the five Criminal Justice scholarships last year and we hope to be able to continue that tradition this year too."

The cost to attend the fundraiser is $25. Those wishing to attend should RSVP by October 20 by contacting Ron Meek at (618) 437-5321, Ext. 1239, or meekr@rlc.edu.

RLC observes National Adult Education & Literacy Week

BY PHILIP SLEDGE
CENTRALIA & MT. VERNON SENTINEL NEWS STAFF

Educational institutions throughout the United States will spend the week honoring the National Adult Education and Literacy Week campaign to promote the importance of literacy. This week-long campaign, which started Monday and will last until Friday, gives adult education programs throughout the county the exposure to make changes in the lives of residents in each of their communities. In Illinois alone, 1.3 million residents do not have a high school diploma, 2.73 million residents speak a language other than English as a primary language in their home and more than 386,000 immigrants are currently residing within the state.

More than 90 programs funded by the Illinois Community College Board are using the attention obtained throughout the week to battle adult illiteracy and to encourage those adult residents to attempt to earn their Graduate Equivalency Diploma (GED).

There are approximately 96,000 students enrolled in adult education and literacy programs annually and more than 16,800 of those students end up passing the GED exam.

At Rend Lake College in Ina, the program was honored last week due to scheduling conflicts.

Coordinator of Adult Education and Family Literacy Vickie Gollhofer explained that due to a number of staff members committed to attending an out-of-state conference, the program decided to observe the campaign a week early.

Gollhofer stated that the program held a workshop in collaboration with the University of Illinois Extension Center in Mt. Vernon, which focused on health and nutrition and how both affect learning.

"We are collaborating with [the Extension Center] to do more throughout the year to touch on different health type issues," said Gollhofer.

For more information on either Adult Education and Literacy programs, please contact the Kaskaskia College Adult Education and Literacy Program at 545-3115 or the Rend Lake Adult Education and Family Literacy Program at 437-5321 Ext. 1241 or Ext. 1244.
